Grant Recipients

S. Alexander, Owner and Operator of ANKH Healing Center was developed to assist in creating balance in the lives of individuals throughout the community. Through thorough assessments, our professionals provide feedback and support on how to realign your mind, body, and spirit the natural way. If chosen as a grant recipient Ms. Alexander intends to use the grant to defray the cost of her Reiki certification, classes begin in August 2013.

Brandy Johnson, Owner and Operator of BrownSuga Kitty Productions is a company that has created a concept consisting of marketing cosmetics, fitness classes and athletic apparel for already established brands utilizing multiple channels of distribution. If chosen as a grant recipient Brandy intends to use the grant to defray the cost of her Fitness Instructor classes starting August 2013.

Shark Tank Judges provided valuable feedback and instructions to the three new business owners that were awarded start-up grants by the AllState Foundation and The Bridge Over Troubled Waters.

Clients Testimonials

"Ms. Carter was very nice & kind, her class was very helpful to understand, about starting my new business. LOVE HER CLASS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!" by Nena

"Ms. Carter of Infinite Hands Initiative went beyond herself to help anyone that needed her help, she guided us through a business plan, and brought some speakers with expertise. She has a special gift of sharing her knowledge and I am so grateful to have found her, the time when I started the seminar I had doubt about starting the business, but by the time the seminar was over I had no doubt about it." by Moniva

"Thank you for your lovely and encouraging words. When I think of you, the words "encouragement and possible" come quickly to my mind. I am sure you are a blessing to me not only for your unconditional support but also for the caring and loving motivation that you are always willing to give. You and the program are definitely a role model." by MarthaMe
